OLD PARTIES UNDER TOO COMPLETE CONTROL OF BIG BUSINESS TO GIVE PEOPLE OF COLORADO SQUARE DEAL'

Private Interests Have Held State in Grip So Long They Lost Reputation, Declare Progressive Speakers; Time for 900,000 Voters to Assert Their Rights

State Historical and Natural History Society

"No state government can permit the laws to be defied and command the respect of the law abiding citizenship. The Republican and Democratic parties too long have been under the complete domination of the big business interests of the state. They have incurred too many obligations. They are not at liberty to do the things they promise to do. It is time to give a party take charge of your state government that is not under any obligations to any business or any individual."—Merle D. Vincent.

Speaking without bitterness but sending convincing arguments straight from the shoulder, the Progressive candidates who make up the "flying squadron" on its automobile tour through Colorado to deliver the 'message' to the people, yesterday afternoon addressed an interested crowd at North park. A cold wind cut down the attendance, but did not chill the enthusiasm of the speakers or their audience.

The campaigners Edward P. Costigan, candidate for governor; Merle D. Vincent, candidate for attorney general; Mrs. Agnes Riddle, candidate for secretary of state, and P. H. Stutman, candidate for lieutenant governor, all made addresses. They arrived from Denver yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and left last night at 6 o'clock for Arkansas valley points.

Old Parties Are Unchanged.

"We are going to revise the looks of the other parties," said Vincent, who made the first address. "Both the Republican and Democratic parties are as completely controlled by the corporations as they have ever been. Their complexion has not changed. They can't give any different kind of administration.

"We have permitted private business to run the business of the state too long. The Republican candidate for governor is very satisfactory to the railroads, the Colorado Fuel and Iron company and the big steel interests. If he is satisfactory to these he cannot be satisfactory to the citizens of the state. These business interests will support nobody who will not do their bidding.

"These notorious parties have flirted with both capital and labor. And now they want to protect Colorado's reputation! Why, people, Colorado has no reputation. What has been done is history. Colorado must build its reputation.

"The Democratic party has been in absolute control of every state department and of the entire state government. We have seen the Democratic party stripped of its power to act on its obligations to the people. And now they are asking you to return them to power. Ammons said he would protect the business interests and labor too. Everybody knows what he did, or rather did not do. It's the same organization today with the same men and the same interests controlling it that put Ammons in power. Will you trust them again?"

State Controlled Too Long.

"We have permitted private business to run Colorado too long. We have let the banks dictate who should be treasurers and these treasurers were under obligations and would not allow the state funds to be used as they should be. Instead of allowing loans from the school fund to the farmers at 6 per cent interest these funds have been in the banks at three per cent interest.

"The railroads have had their part in making the laws. We have let coal companies write laws, name judges and legislative officials until we had the industrial war. Our state government acts as if it was a hired man.

"Our state government was not founded for private business interests. It was founded by the people for the

1,500 I. W. W. ARE HEADED FOR BUTTE

Many Are Armed and the Authorities Are Expecting Trouble

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 7.—Probably headed for Butte as many as 1,500 Industrial Workers of the World are scattered along the route of the Great Northern railroad between Great Falls and Fargo, N. D., according to information given to Gov. Samuel V. Stewart today by railroad officials.

Governor Stewart immediately telegraphed warnings to the sheriffs of counties through which the Great Northern Pacific railroads enter Montana.

The railroad officials reported to the governor that many of the men were armed and were forcing the railroad men to permit them to ride.

It was reported to the governor today that a band of 50 I. W. W. had left Havre yesterday morning and probably had arrived in Great Falls. It is understood also that bands of the wanderers have been seen in Powell county and near Bozeman.

The sheriffs were requested to handle the situation as they thought best.

RUSSIAN HEAVY ARTILLERY REDUCING PRZEMYSL FORTS

Town Set on Fire by Shells, and All Efforts of Austrians to Relieve the Garrison Have Failed

LONDON, Oct. 8.—(Thursday)—Dispatches from Lemberg, according to the Reuter correspondent at Petrograd, say that the Russian heavy artillery is continuously bombarding Przemysl and gradually destroying the fortress and the town, where the shells set fire to many houses. All the Austrian efforts to relieve the garrison have failed, and their attempts, the correspondent adds, have resulted in considerable losses.

[illegible] Oct. 7.—A dispatch from [illegible] to the Corriere della Sera confirms a previous report that the Austrian arms in Galicia has been placed under the control of the German staff, [illegible] the opposition of Emperor Francis Joseph.

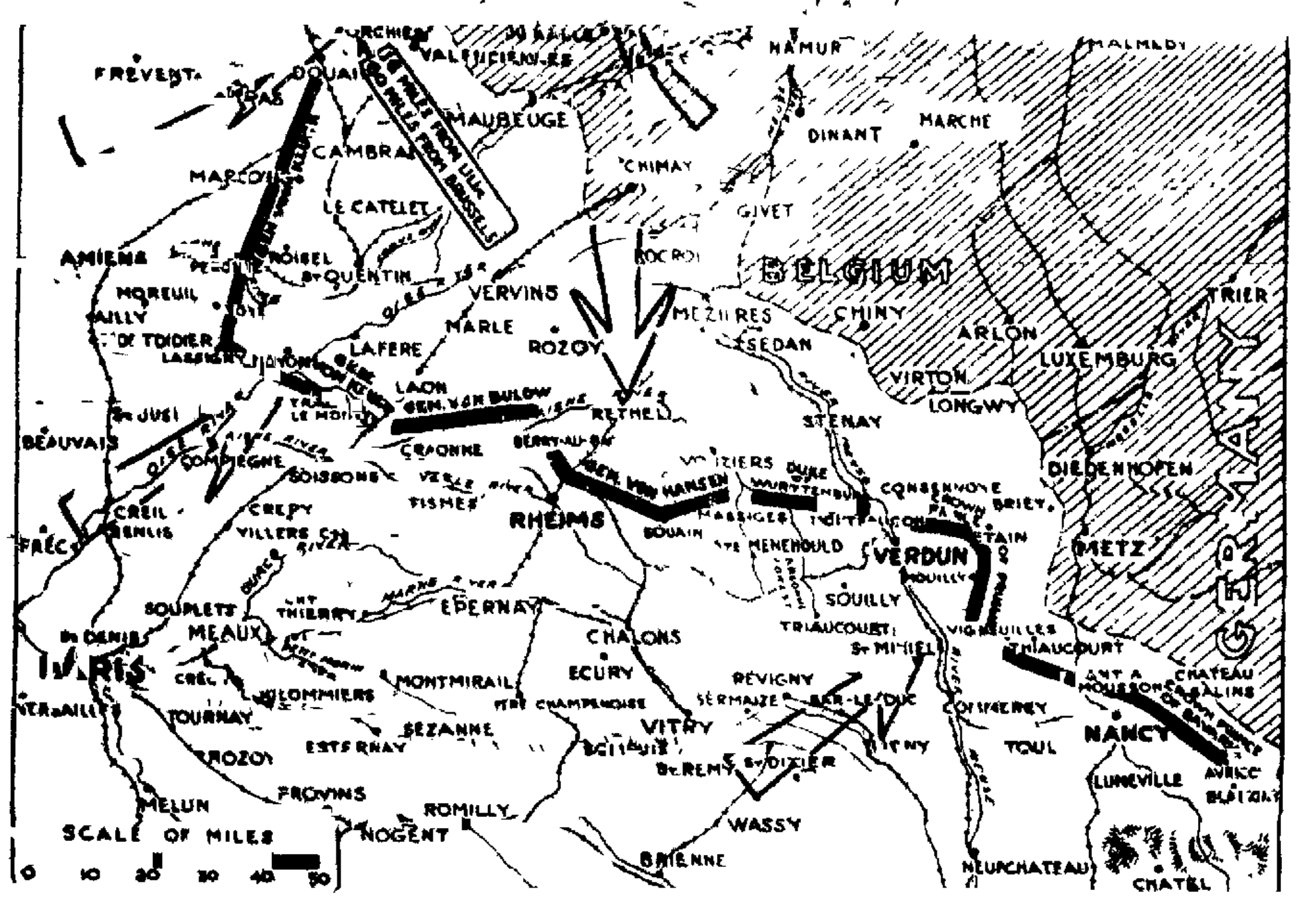

The dispatch adds that Major General Conrad, chief of the Austrian general staff, has virtually been deprived of power on account of his condition resulting from the death of his son, who was killed in action.

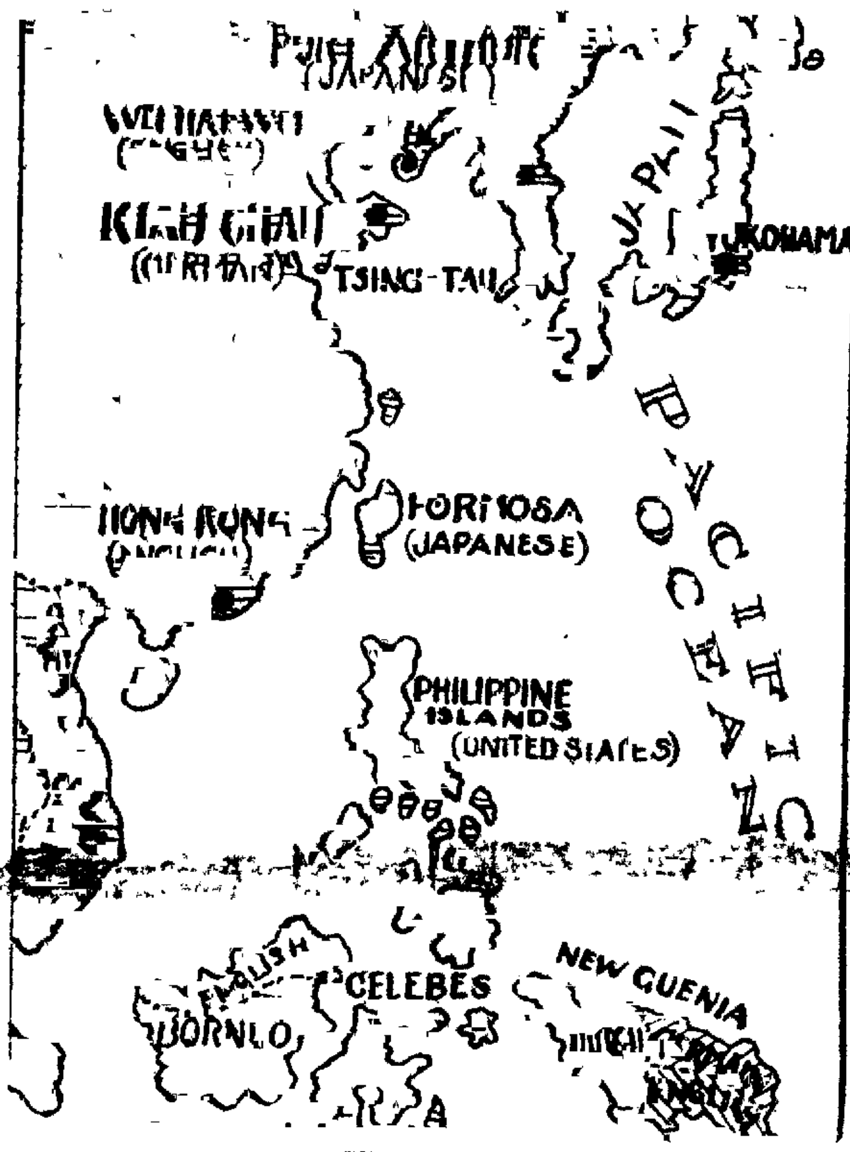

Dealing with the removal of General Auffenberg from his command the correspondent asserts that this action was taken ostensibly because of the general's ill health but that in reality it was due to his move on Lublin, which was considered an enormous mistake and responsible in great part for the Austrian defeat.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 7.—The Russian general staff in a statement concerning the claims of the German general staff that the battles of Augustowo and Suwalki were decisive German victories, says in refutation of this claim that it is necessary only to point to the hasty retreat of the German army from Memel and the [illegible] river toward the East Prussian frontier, which at times assumed the character of a rout, with losses to the Germans in guns and men.

The Russian official news agency says it is authorized by the general staff to deny the accuracy of statements alleged to have been issued by the German and Austrian official news agencies to the effect that there is danger of hostilities in Russian Afghanistan and in eastern Persia and that there are signs of a revolution in Russian Turkestan.

WHERE ALLIES AND GERMANS ARE FIGHTING IN FRANCE AND SCENE OF JAPANESE-GERMAN OPERATIONS IN ORIENT

PROSPECTS GROWING BETTER EVERY DAY FOR MOOSE VICTORY

C. P. Dodge, Progressive State Chairman, Discusses the Party Campaign

"The prospects for a Progressive victory are looking far better than at any time since the party started in Colorado," said State Chairman Clarence P. Dodge yesterday. Mr. Dodge came to Colorado Springs with the automobile campaigners but returned to Denver last night, where he will direct the campaign from the executive offices of the party.

"We are becoming more hopeful every day," Mr. Dodge said. "From now on a definite campaign, well planned in every detail, will be carried on throughout the state. The automobile campaign plan has been a [illegible] We are taking the 'message' direct to the voter and frankly discussing it. The Progressives throughout the state are standing for that which they are fighting and we are in splendid shape for the next three weeks.

"The campaigners have held 57 meetings at 51 places and only six of these were visited two years ago. By this it can be seen that we are getting close to the voter to whom little attention has been paid by any party in the past. We give out literature to these people and find them tremendously interested. They ask questions and seem to be in earnest about the party, its principles and its platform.

"From Colorado Springs we go to Pueblo and the Arkansas valley and then to western Colorado, where 12 counties will be reached. The last 10 days will be spent in Denver, with all the state candidates there for street meetings every day throughout the city.

"Our speakers are taking the 'message' to the people, discussing it frankly and without bitterness and offering a constructive program."

Regarding the statewide prohibition fight Mr. Dodge said: "As far as I can find out the feeling is overwhelmingly for a dry Colorado in all the places that we have visited."

FARM EXPERTS GATHER AT WICHITA FOR MEET

WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 7.—Farm experts representing [illegible] states and agricultural representatives of a dozen counties were here tonight for the formal opening of the International Soil Products exposition. The products of the United States and Canada received much attention.

The International Dry Farming congress and the International Congress of Farm Women will begin sessions Monday.

BELGIAN GOVERNMENT IS MOVED TO OSTEND

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 7.—The Nieuw Van Den Dag says that the Belgian government today was moved from Antwerp to Ostend.

The paper says that the German commander of the forces besieging Antwerp sent an officer carrying a white flag into the city this morning to announce that the bombardment of the temporary capital would commence at 9:30 o'clock this forenoon. Many refugees left for Holland and at noon the government was transferred to Ostend.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Ostend says:

"Several ministers with the personnel of the ministries have just arrived here."

BRITISH SUBMARINE MAKES DARING RAID ON GERMANS IN NORTH SEA, SINKING TORPEDO BOAT DESTROYER

Japanese Navy Sends Three German Gunboats to Bottom of Kiao-Chow Bay; Other Naval Episodes

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Submarine E 9 of the British navy, under command of Lieutenant Commander Max K. Horton, has made another raid into German waters off the mouth of the river Ems and succeeded in sinking a German torpedo boat destroyer. This same submarine under the same commander made a similar dash and sank the German cruiser Hela off Helgoland September 13. As on the former occasion, the E 9 has safely returned to her home port.

GERMANS IMPERIL ALLIES' LEFT WING WHEN FRESH TROOPS ARE BROUGHT UP

General Von Kluck Assumes the Offensive, but Advantage Is Said to Be Short-Lived

French Operating Near Belgian Border, Having Pressed Several Miles Northward; Berlin Claims Two Antwerp Forts Have Fallen; Kaiser On Defensive in East Prussia.

While the world awaits news of the great battle in which the British and French allied forces and the Germans in northern France have engaged for 26 days, the meager official reports from the front vouchsafe little information of the actual operations. Today it is a small piece of ground lost and tomorrow the same ground has been regained. Meanwhile, the French forces are moving northward, but are gaining little to the east, which would be essential to the outflanking of the German right wing.

As a matter of fact, General von Kluck, in command of that section of the German army, with heavy reinforcements which have reached him in the last week, has taken a decided offensive, and day by day the announcement is made by the French war office that the "violent battle continues."

FRENCH FIGHTING WITH GREAT DASH

The British official bureau reports that the French army is fighting with the greatest dash and bravery, but is silent on what the British are doing. The French officials report an advance on certain points on the center and the retaking of the ground previously yielded in the Roye district.

Masses of German cavalry have been recently near Lille, and behind them German forces are moving in a line between Tourcoing and Armentieres. This important unit of the German army, which it was thought might serve to break the French line, the French report says, has been held in check, and to the north of Lille has been driven back. On two wings, it is added, the German attacks have been repulsed.

ALLIES OPERATING NEAR THE BELGIAN BORDER

The northward movement of the French line brings it close to the Belgian frontier and coincidentally there have been engagements between the Belgians and the Germans in the environs of Ypres, 20 miles east of Ostend, and at Audenarde, 15 miles southwest of Ghent.

While the East Indian troops have reached France and may already have reinforced Field Marshal Sir John French's army operating in the neighborhood of Soissons, the whereabouts of the Canadians, numbering about 33,000, has been a matter of conjecture. It is now announced that they are about to be landed in England and will be sent to an inland training camp.

GERMANS ON DEFENSIVE IN EAST PRUSSIA

The situation as between the Russians and Germans and Austrians is somewhat problematical, but a very frank statement from Berlin admits that the German forces on the frontier of East Prussia have assumed a defensive movement and that they abandoned the bombardment of Ossowetz, a fortress in Russian Poland.

This statement adds that the fighting at Augustowo and in Suwalki was of a most sanguinary nature and that while the German machine guns finally turned the scale of battle in favor of the Germans, the slaughter of the German artillerymen was terrific. The movements of the German troops were greatly hampered by the physical condition of the country.

The forty third German casualty list issued at Berlin contains 10,630 names in dead, wounded and missing.

BERLIN CLAIMS TWO ANTWERP FORTS TAKEN

Berlin also reports that the fighting on the German right wing in France has been successful and that in the assault on Antwerp two more forts have fallen into German hands.

The Belgian government has been removed from Antwerp to Ostend, several of the ministers and many thousands of refugees having reached there. The bombardment of Antwerp, it is reported, already has begun following a notification from the commander of the German troops that noncombatants and others desiring to do so should withdraw from the city.

President Poincare, accompanied by Premier Viviani and the minister of war, M. Millerand, has returned to Paris after a visit to the battle front. It has been reported that the French government would return to Paris from Bordeaux at an early date.

BRITISH SUBMARINE SINKS GERMAN SHIP

A British submarine has made another raid close to the German base in the North sea and has torpedoed a German torpedo boat destroyer. There is a report that a German cruiser also was torpedoed, but this is not confirmed.

The Japanese have occupied the island of Yap of the Caroline group in the Pacific, and at the same time have notified the state department at Washington that the occupation is temporary and solely for military purposes.

The second son of the German emperor, Prince Eitel Frederick, is reported to have been injured by a fall [illegible] Already other sons of the emperor have suffered physical ailments as a result of their arduous campaign. Prince Joachim received a bullet wound and Prince Oscar was stricken with a heart affection after an exhausting engagement.

GERMAN PROFESSORS AT EDINBURGH ARE ASKED TO QUIT POST

English and Scotch Universities Open With Reduced Attendance

LONDON, Oct. 7.—(Midnight) English and Scotch universities opened their fall terms today with greatly reduced attendance. Cambridge university had only 1,500 students against 3,500 last year, many of those at the institution last year having joined the army. The other seats of learning have lost students in about the same proportion.

Much comment has arisen over the action of the faculty of Edinburgh university in asking all its German professors and lecturers to resign.

The German Rhodes scholars and other German and Austrian students who have been attending English universities in large numbers are absent this fall, a majority of them being with their armies.

The Rev. Thomas Banks Strong, vice chancellor of Oxford university, [illegible] opening of the term today [illegible] of the absence of the German students, said:

ISLAND OF YAP, NEAR PHILIPPINES, OCCUPIED BY JAPS

PEKIN, Oct. 7.—According to a German news agency dispatch, Japanese forces have occupied the island of Yap, the most important island in the Caroline group, or New Philippines, in the Pacific ocean.

The Caroline islands are east of the Philippines. The group is very extended and comprises about 680 small islands. Yap is about 1,000 miles from the island of Mindanao, one of the Philippine group. The Caroline islands were sold by Spain in 1899.

If your skin is yellow, complexion sallid—tongue coated, appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—in fact, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

If you want a clear, fine sight, bright eyes, no dizziness, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Take one or two nights and note the pleasing results.

'OLD PARTIES ARE BUSINESS OWNED' SAY MOOSE SPEAKERS

people. Private business is today masquerading under the banner of conservatism—trying to make the people believe that it is something that it isn't. The people have been fooled in the past. They have tolerated the Democratic and Republican parties. The Progressives appeal to both labor and capital for a square deal. We do not think that either should have any undue influence in the management of the affairs of the state.

"The only way to protect business is to take it entirely out of politics. Let the railroads and coal operators attend to their own business. It is time to have a party that is not under obligations to any business or any individual. The Progressive party occupies that position."

In introducing Costigan, John H. Weir, who acted as chairman of the meeting, said that the speaker was "the most splendidly equipped man in Colorado to handle Colorado's problems."

Colorado Needs New Deal.

"These are serious times in Colorado," said Costigan. "We need a new deal here for the salvation of the commonwealth. The people must get together—they cannot work with political bosses. The virtues of the Progressive party are merely the virtues of common sense. We are interested in principles, and we want to be judged by these principles. We started with nothing but principles and appeal only to the honest voters. And we have made remarkable strides. There must be a reason.

"We need a new justice in Colorado. Not one for one interest, not one for labor, not one for capital, but one for everybody. Just because we stand for justice we have been vilified throughout the state. But we continued to stand for our idea of justice—fair play to all. When little children labor, when women are forced to do excessive work, when men are not paid honestly, is that justice? While we have been more than just to the big capitalist, have we helped the small capitalist, who wants to upbuild the state? We have let the railroads charge what they please. Is that justice?

Have Not Had Good Government.

"The argument in Denver by the liquor interests against statewide prohibition is that the tourist business will be eliminated if the state goes dry. If we had been just there should not be that fear. It is all because we have not had good government.

"We haven't been just to labor. The congress of the United States has written this into its inner records. Huerfano and Las Animas counties, instead of having an open shop for labor, have had a closed shop against the union workman. For years there has not been the semblance of civil government in these two counties. The coal companies have owned them body and soul. It is time for the Progressive party to let the 900,000 people of Colorado say what is to be done in Colorado.

"Neither Peabody or Ammons could learn a lesson from Canada and New Zealand. They would not listen to an arbitration law for dealing with industrial disputes. And yet every 10 years we have had industrial war, have sent our boys into the militia, have cost many lives and have put the state in debt.

People Forgotten.

"We haven't been just to the taxpayer. There have been too many Devines, too many Archie Stevensons, too many Bob Speers, too many Aicheles. There have been too many special interests, and the people—the mass of the people have been forgotten.

"In the light of recent history, it would be better to vote the Prohibition or Socialist ticket than for either of these two old parties. Five months ago we had civil war. We have learned no lessons from this unless we refuse to return into power the parties that were responsible for it."

Speaking of the Republican candidate for governor, Costigan sent some hot shot into George Carlson's camp.

"Two years ago Carlson was making war on the very men he is now in league with. By whom was he nominated? John B. Stephen, formerly of Colorado City is telling the story that before the primaries Sam D. Nicholson, one of the gubernatorial candidates, received a message signed by Bowers, the head man of the C. F. & I. in Colorado—telling him (Nicholson) to get out of the way for Carlson in the campaign. You can see by that that Carlson's affiliations are with the special interests.

"Patterson, the Democratic candidate, has the solid backing of the Labor interests. Patterson helped to elect, and he was the man who advised Ammons during the trouble in the southern coal fields. If you want to continue Ammonism, just give Patterson a birthday present of the election.

Too Long a Land of Isms.

"The people of Colorado have too long vacillated between coal company Socialism, Peabodyism and Ammonism. We have been too friendly with special interests and too unjust to the 900,000 people of the commonwealth. These people certainly prefer a different government. It is our duty to bring justice to all. We want our program to do for Colorado what La Follette's did for Wisconsin, what Johnson's did for California.

"Why are the Republican and Democratic platforms silent upon these great big issues of justice to labor, capital, the taxpayer, the farmer? Why won't the Democrats say something about what Ammons did? Why did they not promise to amend the wrongs he allowed to be committed?"

Costigan closed with the statement that what the people of Colorado want is the "dawn of a new and a rich and a prosperous Colorado."

"The most potentially useful woman in Colorado," was the way in which Weir introduced Mrs. Agnes Riddle, candidate for secretary of state.

"Our battle," said Mrs. Riddle, "is for honesty and independence. If that isn't worth fighting for I don't know what is."

Speaking of the part women play in the political field, Mrs. Riddle told of how hard the women in the legislature had to fight for the eight-hour law for women, of the minimum wage law, and how Ammons had delayed its operation. She told of the child labor in the south and how the women were not allowed to vote there because the interests knew they would abolish child labor.

Colorado Wants Peace.

"Can't we ever get peace in Colorado?" she asked. "We have been fighting like cats and dogs too long. But we never will if we allow Colorado to be administered by these people in league with the interests.

"Why, our labor commissioner, E. V. Brake, now candidate for secretary of state, put more guns into the hands of strikers than anybody else, and yet he was in the employ of the state. These conditions are a disgrace.

"The trouble with Colorado is that we have not attended to our own business and have allowed somebody else to attend to it for us. What we need in Colorado is not more guns, more juries or more courts, or even more law. What we need is a little old-fashioned Christianity and the love and fear of God."

P. H. Troutman of Canon City, who joined the party here, and will accompany the speakers on the remainder of the tour, made a few remarks.

"We are facing great issues that need a solution," he said. "These issues the old parties are continually dodging."

A number of the county candidates had seats on the speakers' stand during the meeting.

How to Have the Best Cough Remedy and Save $2 by Making It at Home

Cough medicines, as a rule contain a large quantity of plain syrup. A pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, stirred for 2 minutes, gives you as good syrup as money can buy.

Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces Pinex (50 cents worth), pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with sugar syrup. This gives you, at a cost of only 54 cents, a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50—a clear saving of nearly $2. Full directions with Pinex. It keeps perfectly and tastes good.

It takes hold of the usual cough or chest cold at once and conquers it in 24 hours. Splendid for whooping cough, bronchitis and winter coughs.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals and soothes the inflamed membranes in the case of a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine extract, combined with guaiacol, and has been used for generations to heal inflamed membranes of the throat and chest.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Methodists Would Put Lid on All Amusements and Business on Sabbath

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 7.—Activities of business and pleasure on Sunday were deprecated by the Methodist general conference at its closing session today. Hotels, restaurants and drug stores should not do business on the Sabbath, the conference felt, and golf, social teas and traveling should be frowned upon.

The committee on Sabbath observance reported that Sunday as a day of rest and of consequent spiritual opportunity "at present" faces a threefold menace.

WAR BULLETINS

LONDON, Oct. 8.—(Thursday.)—Three of Premier Asquith's sons have volunteered for active service. Two are now training. The third, who is convalescing from a recent illness, has failed to pass the physical examination.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—(Thursday.)—An official statement given out in Antwerp last night and telegraphed here by the Reuter Telegram company correspondent says:

"A very violent engagement was fought on all lines today. The situation is unchanged."

PETROGRAD, Oct. 8.—M. Sazonoff, the Russian foreign minister announced today that the powers comprising the triple entente (Russia, Great Britain and France) are taking steps to secure the reopening of the Dardanelles.

MILAN, Oct. 8.—(Thursday.)—The Austrians continue daily their bombardments of Mount Lovchen, says the Corriere della Sera's correspondent, with the Montenegrins, but the bombardment so far has not killed a single Montenegrin soldier.

Austrian aeroplanes indulge in bomb dropping over the Montenegrin fortifications but their efforts are futile.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—(Thursday.)—A Paris dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company says it is officially announced the German forces operating in France and Belgium number 23 active army corps and 18 reserve corps as well as some divisions of the landwehr and landsturm. This differs from the newspaper statements that only 20 active army corps and 15 reserve corps are engaged in these countries.

10,000 HORSES TO BE SHIPPED TO FRANCE

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 7.—Thirty-five carloads of horses were shipped today from Memphis to New Orleans where it is understood, they will be transported to France for the allied armies. COLORADO CROPS BETTER THAN 1913

BUMPER CORN CROP IN NATION ASSURED

Many Other Increases Are Forecast in Report From Washington

DENVER, Oct. 7.—Colorado forecasts on October 1 were issued by the federal bureau of crop estimates today. Figures for the more important products follow.

Corn, Oct. 1, 10,500,000 bushels; Sept. 1, 10,164,000; final 1913, 8,500,000.

Wheat, preliminary estimates 1914, 11,500,000; final 1913, 10,875,000.

Potatoes, Oct. 1, forecast 1913, 9,980,000 bushels; final 1913, 9,200,000.

Hay, preliminary estimate 1914 tons, 2,525,000; final 1913, 1,824,000.

Apples, Oct. 1914 bushels, 3,880,000; Sept. 1, 3,400,000; final 1913, 3,300,000.

Sugar beets, condition Oct. 1, 1914, 96; Oct. 1, 1913, 87.

Bumper Corn Crop.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Greater corn crop prospects by 78,000,000 bushels and great improvement in tobacco, increasing the prospects of that crop over the forecast in September by 92,000,000 pounds, were the features of the department of agriculture's October's crop report announced today.

An increase of 11,000,000 bushels in the potato crop, 21,000,000 bushels in the oats crop and 10,000,000 bushels in the apple crop also were forecast.

Spring wheat showed a slight decrease, being 4,000,000 bushels under the September forecast, yet the combined crop of winter wheat and spring wheat makes this year's harvest of that grain a record one.

CANADA WANTS TO KEEP GRAIN WITHIN EMPIRE

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 7.—Canada's grain should be kept within the British empire for fear that otherwise it might find its way into the hands of England's enemy in war, in the opinion of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers association.

It was learned today that a memorial had been prepared by the association for submission to Sir George E. Foster, minister of trade and commerce, asking that the Dominion government arrange to cooperate with the British government to secure Canada-grown grain direct from the farmers of the prairie provinces at a price of $1 per bushel for wheat and 50 cents for oats for the next three years.

The memorial points out the storage facilities at the disposal of the Canadian government and urges that the harvest should be secured for the empire's needs rather than be exported into the United States, whence it might be shipped abroad and reach Germany.

COUNT ZEPPELIN TO LEAD AEROPLANES IN ATTACK ON LONDON?

LONDON, Oct. 7.—In a dispatch from The Hague, the correspondent of the Daily Express says Germain newspapers reaching there indicate that Count Zeppelin is now at Wilhelmshaven, on the North sea, with his staff.

Wilhelmshaven is the point from which the great air raid on the British isles is expected to start.

One of these papers published an interview with the count, in which he is quoted as saying that he had not forgotten England and would prove it very soon.

It is also reported, the correspondent of the Express continues, that Count Zeppelin was summoned recently by Emperor William to Mainz. His majesty said to the count that he relied on him for a great work, and offered to make him commander-in-chief of the German air fleet. The count refused, but said he would accept the title when he returned from England.

The Zeppelin staffs are working day and night at Wilhelmshaven, and another station is being established at Emden for other types of airships.

EGYPT IS IN SAME BOAT WITH U. S.; CAN'T SELL COTTON

WASHINGTON, Oct 7—Egypt, as well as the United States, is facing a serious crisis because of inability to market her cotton crop Paul Knabenshue United States vice consul general at Cairo, in a report to the state department, says Egyptian banks, which in normal times import from $60 000,000 to $75 000,000 in gold, have been unable to obtain specie to finance the crop movement and the government has made notes of the National Bank of Egypt legal tender with the same value as gold

To ease the cotton situation it has been decided that the National bank advance money to cotton growers on all cotton offered storing the lint as security thus protecting small cultivators from forced sales at sacrifice prices Large cultivators are expected to hold their product themselves

To prevent a surplus next year, the ministry of agriculture already has formulated plans for reducing the area to be planted by about 60 per cent cultivators will be instructed to grow corn, beans and other grain and food crops instead of cotton

U.S. ACCEPTS JAP EXPLANATION OF SEIZURE OF ISLAND

Occupation Only Temporary and Designed as Precautionary Move

WASHINGTON, Oct 7 Secretary Bryan has been officially informed that the occupation by the Japanese naval forces of the German Pacific islands is only temporary and solely for military purposes. The assurance came today from the Japanese foreign office through Ambassador Guthrie and also from the Japanese embassy in Washington.

It is believed the declaration from the Japanese government of its intentions regarding the islands seized was made voluntarily. State department officials said yesterday no inquiries had been made by the United States on the subject and it was believed here tonight that this government had accepted the statement from Tokio as sufficient guarantee that the situation in the far east would not be altered in any way inimical to its interests.

Precautionary Move.

It was reiterated at the Japanese embassy tonight that the necessity of protecting commerce in the Pacific from the German cruisers, which are eluding pursuit in these waters, had prompted the seizures. Japanese and British fleets, in accordance with a common understanding, it was said, had been acting together in all movements of the Japanese fleet

In regard to the Shan-Tung railroad it was said by embassy officials that its occupation should not be considered in any sense a violation by the Japanese of Chinese neutrality, as removing the line from German control was a military necessity The Japanese advance against the German stronghold at Kiao-Chow would be hindered, it was pointed out, if the Germans were allowed to use the road to haul supplies or otherwise facilitate their military operations

WANT TO BRING MEXICAN WOUNDED ACROSS BORDER, BUT NONE ARE TO BE HAD

NACO, Sonora Oct. 7—Beleaguered Naco and its Villa attackers under Governor Maytorena have drawn the United States border patrol into more active service

Repeated attempts of unneutral acts by both sides caused Colonel Guilfoyle, the American commander, to prepare for action The international boundary was marked today with American flags and protecting outposts were placed where the two armies could be watched.

Despite the vigorously repeated refusals to allow the wounded Mexicans to be brought across the line, Gen. Benjamin Hill, the Carranza garrison commander here, is making a final effort to have his wounded shipped in bond to Agua Prieta by way of American Naco and Douglas, Ariz., adjoining Agua Prieta. This plan, if successful, would also be available for Maytorena's forces

In spite of the constant efforts of both sides to have either wounded or unwounded Mexicans cross the border, neither side so far has reported any but trifling injuries Maytorena yesterday said he had one wounded. Hill has reported nothing except minor wounds caused by his own fire

Today the fifth of the ostensible siege saw the first effective gunfire, Maytorena's five-inch field piece throwing three shells into the town The postoffice and a residence were damaged The piece is reported to be handled by a German artilleryman, a Captain Maplow

Hill continues to receive supplies and ammunition and he has mounted 14 machine guns Their fire however, is ineffective

"Disease Prevention Day" observed by the state of Indiana October 2, was the subject of sermons in nearly every church in the state on the preceding Sunday

REVISION OF WAR TAX BILL FINISHED

Senate Democratic Caucus Agrees on Measure as It Will Be Reported

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—Revision of the administration war revenue bill was completed by the caucus of senate Democrats late today, and preparations made to press the measure in the senate, Senator Simmons, in charge of the bill said the finance committee would present it to the senate tomorrow and consideration begin at once. He believed a week of debate would dispose of the bill and clear the way for adjournment

As the bill was completed by the caucus, with its added levies on beer and rectified spirits and minus the proposed taxes on gasoline and automobiles, Senator Simmons estimated that it would yield annually about $105,000,000, unless a slump in beer production cuts down the estimated revenue from that source

Beer Tax Nearly Half.

The increased tax on beer is expected to yield from $43,000,000 to $46,000,000, and the rectified spirits tax of 5 cents a gallon is calculated to raise $5 000,000 Stamp taxes on negotiable instruments stocks and bonds, deeds and transfer, bills of lading, Pullman car and steamship tickets and insurance policies are expected to yield $30,000,000, and a stamp tax on patent medicines, cosmetics and perfumes is expected to yield $7,000,000 The remainder will come from special taxes on theaters and places of amusement, on tobacco, cigar and cigarette manufacturers and on domestic wines.

The caucus eliminated today a special tax of $40 on brokers, cutting out $300,000 of estimated revenue A vigorous contest by Senator Lewis of Illinois resulted in a reduction of the tax on Pullman tickets from 2 cents to 1 cent each. It was estimated that the 2-cent tax would have yielded half a million of revenue Efforts to impose a stamp tax on bank checks of 1 or 2 cents each were voted down.

Revise Cigarette Tax.

The caucus authorized the finance committee to revise the tax on cigarettes, formerly fixed by the committee at $24 for each manufacturer. It will be graduated along the lines of the cigar manufacturers' tax, which charges dealers from $6 to $96, according to the volume of business.

Contests over duties on domestic wines, which engrossed the caucus yesterday and today with central states and Pacific coast growers arguing vigorously on both sides of the dispute, were avoided when the caucus left the entire matter to the finance committee Suggestion was made today that California growers would accept a tax of 55 cents a gallon on grape brandy, with which sweet wines are fortified if the tax of 20 cents a gallon on sweet wines and 8 cents a gallon on dry wines was reduced by one-half

May Compromise.

Senator Simmons said tonight that the committee would undoubtedly compromise the dispute. He added that by resorting to night sessions if necessary, the bill could be passed in about a week after it is presented

The insurance tax agreed upon is the house provision for a levy on all property insurance but with life insurance eliminated This was done by the senate finance committee before the caucus was called and was left unchanged by the conference As it stands in the bill a tax of one-half of 1 cent per $1.00 of premium is levied on all property insurance, ashore or afloat, cooperative and mutual policies being exempt as are reissued policies Fidelity and guarantee insurance would pay a similar rate

CARRANZA AND VILLA TO SETTLE SQUABBLE IN THE NEAR FUTURE

Mexican Representative Says Trouble Is Not of a Serious Nature

WASHINGTON, Oct 7—Speedy restoration of harmony between Generals Carranza and Villa through open conferences at Aguascalientes was predicted tonight in a statement issued by the Constitutionalist agency here The statement quotes Richard Cole of Los Angeles, who, it says, is a personal friend of Carranza and continues.

"Carranza has no personal feelings against Villa He feels that the general of the division of the north has been led to his present rebellious position by designing and unscrupulous persons who have posed as Villa's friends I think Villa is a big enough man to admit his mistake when it is once brought home to him Mexico can use both the services of Carranza and Villa, acting in their proper spheres

Carranza Wants to Retire.

"Carranza is eager to retire to private life He is worn out and only a sense of duty keeps him engaged in directing the Constitutionalist cause. He has promised to visit the United States and make a five months' tour"

Mr Cole is here to seek recognition for the Mexican central government He said he expected to confer with state department officials within a few days and would ask that formal consideration be given the question of recognition

Consul Silliman who has returned to Washington after a sojourn of three months in Mexico as the personal representative of President Wilson, resumed conferences with the state department officials today on the Mexican situation generally, without reference to the question of recognition, it was said

Question Held in Abeyance

Pending the outcome of the preliminary conference at Aguascalientes and the general conferences which has been called to meet there Saturday, officials here say it would be unwise to give this question serious attention

The Constitutionalist agency announced today that an attempt to arrest and extradite a number of former Huerta officials now residing in the United States probably would be made within a few days The names of those whose return to Mexico is sought on charges of "high crimes and misdemeanors" are Feliz Diaz, Emilio Enreol, V Gomez, Marcelo Caraveo, Louis Medina Barron, Francisco del Toro, Felix Terraza and Juan Cenegas, all of whom are ex-Huerta officers. Others whose extradition is contemplated were not named today.

Humane Societies Oppose Slaughter of Horses in War

ATLANTIC CITY, N J, Oct 7—Reports that American horses are being sent to be slaughtered on the battlefields of Europe stirred delegates from various societies interested in the prevention of cruelty to animals at today's session of the American Humane association Mrs S J von Hoesen of Plainfield, N J, declared that it seemed ludicrous to spend thousands of dollars for the prevention of minor injuries to horses here while thousands are being shipped abroad to endure much greater suffering.

sinking of the torpedo boat destroyer off the Dutch coast was more easily accomplished than was the case when the E-9 sent the German cruiser Hela to the bottom, luck was with the submarine

"We knew when we left Harwich harbor," said the sailor, "that it was a case of hit or miss, but we trusted Lieutenant Commander Horton implicitly. When we rose we saw two German destroyers traveling at a speed of about 20 knots.

'Our commander was at the periscope and ordered the forward tubes to be fired. I fired the first tube but could not say whether my missile hit We then rose to the surface and the commander said, Look at her. the beggar is going down.'

"Then we saw the German rise perpendicularly and her men rushed to her stern and dive into the water. The submarine then was submerged again and made her way back to Harwich.

"I don't want to boast, but we got our torpedoes home."

Japanese Operations.

NEW YORK, Oct 7.—The East and West News bureau tonight announced that it had received a cable message from Tokio as follows

"The war department issues the following official announcement:

"'After examining the reports received from various sources, it is inferred that among the enemy's warships in the Bay of Kiao-Chow, in addition to the Kormoran, two other gunboats have been sunk, as nothing has been seen of them since October 2.

German Gunboat Sinks.

"A German gunboat, probably the Iltis, was seriously damaged by the shots from the Japanese field guns on October 4 She fled, towed by other boats, into the Bay of Kiao-Chow, but sunk shortly afterward At present there are three gunboats within the bay

"When the Japanese squadron occupied, on October 6, the Jaluit island one of the Marshall archipelago, they found no German warships there or any on the way After destroying all equipment for military use and seizing ammunition, the bluejackets liberated a Japanese who had been arrested, and released an English merchant vessel which had been captured.,

SEC. BRYAN INDORSES GERARD FOR SENATE

Says Ambassador to Germany Has Proved Worthy of Promotion

WASHINGTON, Oct 7 Secretary Bryan entered the New York senatorial campaign tonight when he made public a letter declaring himself in favor of the election of Ambassador Gerard, as 'an indorsement of the policies of the administration."

The letter is addressed to Judge John M Bowers, formerly Judge Gerard's law partner Its text follows

As it will not be possible for me to speak to any large proportion of citizens of your state, I shall commission you to express the deep interest which I feel in the election of Ambassador Gerard to the United States senate

"Judge Gerard has rendered splendid service at Berlin and there is no reason why his success as a diplomatic representative should stand in the way of his promotion in his home state

"We have had nothing but praise from those who have come in contact with him and as you know he has passed through very trying times

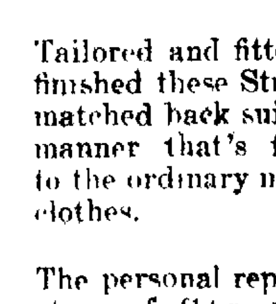

Work Appreciated.

Aside from my appreciation of his work in connection with our foreign service I feel sure he would make an excellent representative of the great state of New York in the United States senate and his election would also be construed as an indorsement of the policies of the president and as an intention on the part of the people to support him in the foreign program which he has outlined

Because of legislative tangles in congress, administration leaders today were fearful adjournment would not be reached in time for many members to get home for their final campaigns for reelection Word sent out from the White house however, that the president was very anxious that the session conclude by the end of next week

Whether congress adjourns or not cabinet members will carry out their plans for speaking tours The Democratic congressional committee was busy today making final arrangements for these trips in which leaders of the senate and house will participate

LOCAL ASSOCIATION WOULD BAR POLITICS FROM COLORADO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Directors of Springs Body Offer Amendment to By-Laws of State Organization

In making application for membership in the state chamber of commerce, the board of directors of the local organization recommends that it be conducted along nonpolitical and nonsectional lines. The directors also suggest that the proposed constitution for the state chamber be amended by the adoption of an article taken from the by-laws of the Colorado Springs organization. It is argued that the state chamber of commerce should not take part in supporting or opposing the election of any candidate for political office, and that the organization will be stronger and will command greater support throughout the state if the constitution specifically forbids such political activity. The amendment proposed is as follows:

"Under no circumstances shall any action be taken by the corporation, by the board of control, by the board of directors, or by any business subdivision formed hereunder, looking to the indorsement of any candidate for any political office."

A letter sent yesterday to President T. B. Sterns of the state association in Denver by Secretary Henderson contains the following suggestions as to the policy of the state chamber and the financing of the organization:

The board feels that the activities of the Colorado state chamber of commerce should be confined to measures rather than men; to policies rather than politics. The directors are strongly of the opinion that unless this is adhered to and unless some definite announcement as to the policy of the organization in this respect is made in the very near future, its field for usefulness will be seriously restricted and its activities hampered.

The directors further feel that early consideration should be given to the matter of financing the state organization and that some plan should be worked out so that the new association will not become too heavy a burden upon the various local affiliating organizations. They feel that whatever decision is made in this regard will have an important bearing as to the membership which it is possible to obtain for the new association. It will be necessary to conduct the Colorado state chamber of commerce as economically as is consistent with efficient work, and the budget should be made up and presented to the commercial associations of the state at the earliest possible date.

SICK CHILDREN LOVE CASCARETS FOR THE BOWELS

Give "Candy Cathartic" for a bad cold, sour stomach, constipation

Get a 10-cent box now.

Most of the ills of childhood are caused by a sour, disordered stomach, sluggish liver and constipated bowels. They catch cold easily, become cross, listless, irritable, feverish, restless, tongue coated, don't eat or sleep well and need a gentle cleansing of the bowels—but don't try to force a nauseating dose of oil into the little one's already sick stomach—it is cruel, needless and old-fashioned.

Any child will gladly take Cascarets Candy Cathartic, which act gently—never gripe or produce the slightest uneasiness—though cleanse the little one's system, sweeten the stomach and put the liver and bowels in a pure, healthy condition.

Full directions for children and grownups in each package.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this gentle, thorough laxative, which costs only 10 cents a box at any drug store. Adv.

SPRINGS MOOSE TO PLAN ENTERTAINMENT FEATURES

National Home Committee to Visit Here in November; Order Will Meet Tonight

Members of Colorado Springs lodge No. 244, Loyal Order of Moose, will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock to discuss plans for increasing the lodge membership and also the entertainment of a special committee of the supreme lodge which will be in Colorado Springs in November in connection with deciding upon a site for the location of the proposed national home of the order. A social will be held following the business session.

The committee appointed to investigate sites for the Moose home will be in Denver beginning November 12 and will hold a number of meetings relative to the sanatorium location. One day will be spent in Colorado Springs, for this city is still one of the strongest contenders for the home site. The night that the committee is here the local lodge will give an entertainment in one of the theaters for Moose and their friends, and one of the features will be an exhibition of pictures taken in and around Mooseheart, the organization's home near Chicago. While in Colorado Springs the supreme lodge committee will be waited upon by Mayor McKesson, M. W. Purcell, C. E. Thomas, Dr. Gerald B. Webb and Dr. A. C. Magruder, and the many advantages of the Pikes Peak region as a sanatorium site presented.

In the meantime Edward F. Kennedy, national director of Colorado and local organizer, announces a campaign to increase the membership of the Colorado Springs lodge. It is expected that many members will be added before the visit of the supreme lodge home committee.

Tell People Springs Is a Winter Resort

McClurg Suggests New Advertising Line

Colorado Springs is an ideal winter resort and should be advertised as such, according to Gilbert McClurg, a former secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who addressed a meeting of the board of directors and committees of the organization yesterday. Mr. McClurg advanced several suggestions relative to plans for the winter advertising campaign, which will be taken up by the committee.

"You get plenty of tourists in the summer," he said, "also they have a wide range of resorts to choose from. In the fall and winter there is only one Colorado Springs, and that is what we want to let people know."

There should be more winter amusements here in his opinion. A winter casino, to entertain visitors, lecture campaigns, concerts, a skating rink and other features would add greatly to the tourists' pleasure.

"In the old days," he said, "the families came and built here for the winter months. There are too many summer resorts and too few for the winter. Colorado Springs is one of those and should be made as attractive as possible. There is not enough to do in the winter. Advertise in the eastern newspapers and tell the people of your wonderful climate, for there is no more wonderful weather anywhere."

This is the ideal time to advertise too, according to Mr. McClurg. People are thinking of touring next summer from coast to coast to the international exposition in San Francisco, and can easily be persuaded to stop off in the Pikes Peak region.

"The eastern newspapers are great fields for advertising and bring more for their money than any other medium," he said. "People read them more, and when they see your city advertised as an ideal winter resort they will begin to take notice, for ideal winter resorts are few."

Mr. McClurg explained advertising methods in the east and told of many of his experiences in this country and abroad. He was manager of the land exposition held at the Madison Square Garden in New York in 1912, and has lectured extensively through the United States.

His suggestions will be taken up by the committees and worked out in line with the general winter campaign. Mr. McClurg is the third expert who has addressed meetings of the Chamber of Commerce. T. T. Maxey, advertising agent for the Burlington railroad, and H. E. Erickson, advertising agent for the Rock Island, have both attended meetings and advanced suggestions for an advertising campaign.

There is a fund of $5,000 to be expended by the advertising committee, and the campaign will be necessarily limited to an expenditure not in excess of that sum.

PATTERSON SHOW COMING TO COLORADO SPRINGS

Appearance Here Beginning October 19 Will Be Under Auspices of Woodmen of the World

Arrangements have been completed for the appearance here of the Patterson shows during the week of October 19. Camp No. 416, Woodmen of the World, under the leadership of Alex Reibscheid as general chairman, is promoting the event. The proceeds will be used to send the drill team, under Captain Frank E. Phillips, and the baseball team, captained by Clark Fowler, to the San Francisco fair in 1915.

The Patterson organization carries 225 people and 12 shows. James Patterson, the owner, has about $200,000 invested, and it requires 25 cars to move the equipment. The shows include many amusement features. Many thrillers are on the program, among them an autodrome where Daredevil Dill and four others make their famous ride and race on motorcycles. The riders pass over a track placed at an angle of 75 degrees at an average speed of nearly 90 miles an hour. The dip of death is another of the feats to be put on.

The drill team of the W. O. W. has been reorganized and is drilling regularly in order to be in shape for the planned trip. They will give exhibitions at the carnival as well as several exhibition trips en route to the fair.

POSTMASTER WARD FINDS MISSING HEIR TO ESTATE

Marshall Alumbaugh, Denver Policeman, Notified of Good Fortune; Other Heirs Not Yet Found

Marshall T. Alumbaugh, son of the late Jesse T. Alumbaugh, and one of the five children who have fallen heir to an estate of more than $10,000, was located yesterday in Denver by Postmaster O. W. Ward. Alumbaugh is a member of the Denver police force and will be notified at once of his good fortune. Several days ago Mr. Ward was asked by Anderson Percfield, an attorney, of Nashville, Ind., to assist in locating the five heirs, who were thought to be living somewhere in this vicinity. Yesterday he received word that one of the five children has been located. The names of the heirs are: Marshall T. Alumbaugh, Isaac I. Alumbaugh, Jesse Alumbaugh, Mary F. Alumbaugh, Oza Alumbaugh, Anna Hover, Laura Hatfield and Laura B. Alumbaugh.

POLICE REPORTS SUBMITTED

One hundred and eighty arrests were made during the month of September, according to the monthly report of Chief of Police Howard Stark. Of these 66 were for vagrancy, 20 for violating the dog license ordinance, 13 for riding on the sidewalk, 12 for investigation and 10 for drunkenness. The patrol wagon responded to 98 calls and the ambulance to six.

The report of Police Magistrate Manning shows that 113 cases were tried in police court. Of these 28 were dismissed. Fines amounting to $95 and costs amounting to $65 were collected.

Six thousand bushels of lodgepole pine seed are being collected this fall on the Arapahoe national forest, Colorado, for use in reforestation work next spring.

Meter Ordinance Is Opposed by Lawton

Mayor McKesson's ordinance providing for the installation of meters on automatic sprinkling systems will be discussed at the meeting of the city council in committee of the whole to be held in the near future. Owners of property where the automatic systems have been installed will be asked to attend the meeting and voice their opposition to the passing of the ordinance.

The proposed ordinance requires the property owner to install meters in order that waste and leakage of water may be stopped and that the city may be paid for all water except that used in case of fire. Commissioner Lawton, at the council meeting yesterday, objected to the ordinance on the grounds that it would put a tariff on fire protection. He urged a more thorough inspection to keep leakage and waste at a minimum. The meters, Mayor McKesson thought, would cost about $300 each.

City Coal Contract Goes to Patterson

The contract for coal for the next quarter was awarded by the city council yesterday to the Patterson & Sons Coal company. The prices are: Lignite lump, $3.28; lignite mine run, $2.50. The only other bidder was the Thomas Coal company, which asked $3.50 for lignite lump and $2.50 for mine run.

The H. & H. Printing company was awarded the contract for printing the report of the council proceedings for the next quarter at $40 a month. The contract for legal printing went to The Gazette. Bids on lumber were referred to Commissioner A. J. Lawton of the department of public works and property for tabulation and report.

At a meeting tomorrow the council will consider plans for the rebuilding of the part of the Bijou street viaduct destroyed by floods.

Oldest Pioneers to Hold Reunion Today

Pioneers who have lived in El Paso county for 50 years or more will hold a reunion this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the National hotel in Colorado City. Veterans from all parts of the Pikes Peak region, who lived in El Paso county 50 years ago will join the informal gathering and luncheon will be served at the hotel.

Colorado City is the home of the oldest resident, Anthony Bott, who has lived in this county for 60 continuous years, and was chosen for the meeting place as it was the home of the first white settlers.

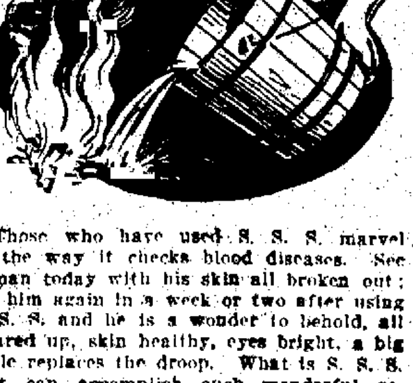

Frank Cotten, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and one of the first white children born in El Paso county, is among the men who lived here half a century ago. Others will be present are Irving Howbert, president of the First National bank; M. S. Beach, M. A. Foster, David Spellman and F. M. Fosdick.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS—The regular monthly meeting of the school board was held yesterday. The monthly bills were allowed and routine business transacted. The school committee of the Chamber of Commerce was present and asked the board to establish a dental clinic for the care of children's teeth. No action was taken by the board. The matter will be investigated.

The Barnes, Woods, Howe Clothing company begs to announce that the Chicago representative of Stratford clothing will be at the Antlers hotel, suite 407, from 3 until 9 o'clock today, with the complete showing of these matched back garments.

A GUARANTEED RELIEF FOR ASTHMA

"I want every Asthma sufferer in Colorado Springs to try my treatment entirely at my risk," Dr. Rudolph Schiffmann announces. "Go to The Robinson Drug Co. and get a 50-cent package of my Asthmador, and should it fail to give instant relief, these druggists will cheerfully refund your money without any question whatever." The Doctor says further, "No matter how violent the attack, how obstinate the case or what else has failed, my Asthmador or Asthmador Cigarettes will give instant relief, usually in 10 seconds, but always within 15 minutes. Hundreds of unsolicited testimonials abundantly prove what my remedy has done, and I know it will do the same for others. I am positively certain that it will produce instant relief and will be found the best remedy ever used that I have no fears of authorizing these druggists to give this guarantee or of their being called upon for the refunding of money." No risk whatever is run in buying this remedy under this positive guarantee.

Persons living elsewhere will be supplied under the same guarantee by their local druggist or direct by Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn. Adv.

Lincoln Beachey and Oldfield in Their Special Racing Stunt

Thrills Promised When Noted Speed Kings Meet This Afternoon

There will be sensations galore at Overland park, Denver, this afternoon when Lincoln Beachey, air aviator, and Barney Oldfield, auto speed king, [illegible] as the last in speed and [illegible] of feats of daring under the auspices of the Denver Press club. All the railroads have made a rate of one and one-third fare for the round trip for a radius of 125 miles from Denver.

A forecast of the thrills that may be expected is given in the St. Louis Globe Democrat's account of the race between Beachey and Oldfield in that city three weeks ago, which is as follows:

"He handled the air craft with all the skill and ease with which a trick bicycle rider manipulates his [illegible] and, although those watching realized what the result of [illegible] [illegible] no danger. [illegible] Beachey [illegible] fast and [illegible] he dived [illegible] into the clouds [illegible] few additional thrills, he [illegible] looped-the-loop [illegible] call responded by sailing out of a cloud with the aeroplane upside down, continuing this sensation for about [illegible] seconds. Beachey did everything but hang on a corner of a cloud.

"Oldfield, racing by himself against time and for records, set new marks for the one-mile, two-mile and [illegible] [illegible] distances [illegible] tricks [illegible]

DEMOCRATIC "ECONOMY"

THE platform on which the Democratic party won its victory two years ago demanded, among other things, "A return to that simplicity and economy which befits a democratic government, and the reduction in the number of useless offices, the salaries of which drain the substance of the people."

We have nothing to say in defense of the extravagant appropriations of the Taft administration; they were bad enough, as everybody knows. But in view of the Democratic pre-election promises of "a return to simplicity and economy," it is interesting to compare the figures of the last five years. Here they are, exclusive of the Rivers and Harbors Act:

1911	$978,521,087.68
1912	995,799,462.72
1913	988,353,340.41
1914	1,057,605,694.40
1915	1,089,408,777.20

For the current biennial period the present Congress has appropriated more than $140,000,000 in excess of the appropriations for the last two years of the previous administration. And a diminished pork barrel adds twenty millions more to the total. What it will be by the time Congress gets through is a matter of guesswork.

The country should have learned by now to take campaign promises of economy with a large pinch of salt. History shows that both Democrats and Republicans spend all they can get and considerably more, and both parties are especially generous in distributing pork to their faithful henchmen. Democratic economy is a transparent myth, but the peculiarly aggravating part of it is the saddling on the country of a "war tax" of $105,000,000, which really is not so much a war tax as it is a means of preventing a deficit caused by Democratic mismanagement.

THE WAR ON THE SEA

IT IS a remarkable thing that although the European war is now well started on its third month, no important naval action has yet taken place. The fact is all the more extraordinary since the greater nations involved are naval powers of the first rank, especially Great Britain, whose fleet is superior to the combined fleets of any two other nations.

England's control of the sea is and always has been so complete that it was not surprising when, in the beginning of the war, she successfully bottled up the German fleet in the Baltic and the Kiel Canal, and swept German shipping from the sea. But there has been no decisive action. True, a single German submarine sank three British cruisers in quick succession, thereby adding force to the contention of some naval authorities that the day of the big battleship and the cruiser is past. But this incident was practically without effect on the situation in the North Sea, for the three cruisers were of an old type and their loss has not seriously impaired British fighting strength.

The openly avowed naval policy of the Germans is to reduce the enemy by torpedo attacks until the two fleets are more nearly on an equal footing. In this program they have had considerable success. The German cruiser Emden, operating off the coast of India, has performed feats reminiscent of the Alabama of Civil War days. From Tahiti comes a report of a successful attack by German war ships on the French colony of Papeete. Correspondingly, the British have inflicted heavy losses on German shipping and destroyed a few German submarines and torpedo boats and one big auxiliary cruiser.

* * * *

But the surprising fact is that there has been no great pitched battle on the sea. The entire French navy, ranking in strength next to that of the United States, is in the Mediterranean; and presumably it has the Austrian fleet securely bottled up in the Adriatic. But apparently the disinclination of the French to go in after their enemies is equalled only by the disinclination of the Austrians to come out after the French. Similarly, in the North Sea, the British are as reluctant to risk destruction by German floating mines and torpedo boats in an attack on the German fleet at the mouth of the Elbe as the Germans are unwilling to sail out to sea and try conclusions with a superior force.

Doubtless this cautious policy is in accord with the accepted teachings of naval strategy, but it marks a departure from the old-fashioned idea of going after the enemy and getting him. At the battle of Mobile Bay Admiral Farragut's answer to his cautious advisers was, "Damn the torpedoes. Go ahead at full speed." Dewey went to Manila Bay with orders from Roosevelt, then Assistant Secretary of the Navy, "Capture or destroy the Spanish fleet," and he did not wait for it to accept an invitation to come out and be destroyed; he steamed past the fort and into the bay and finished the job before breakfast.

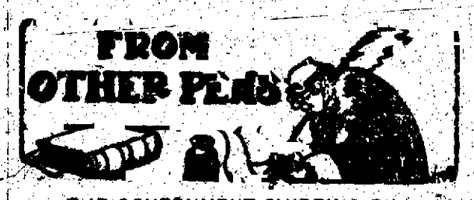

It is not surprising that the Germans observe caution in dealing with a naval force more than twice their own strength. But remembering the traditions of the British fleet one cannot help wondering how much longer it will be before its commander throws caution to the winds, disregards the torpedoes and goes in after the enemy.

FARMER TO CONSUMER

EXPERIMENTS which the Postoffice Department is about to make, of bringing the farm products of this region directly to the consumer by parcel post, will be watched with interest. The farmers hereabouts are successfully raising garden truck of all kinds for their own use. Poultry and eggs are highly profitable products, but under present conditions a farmer living several miles from town cannot expect to sell either garden truck or poultry products to the consumer at a profit.

It is proposed to have the farmers list the products which they expect to furnish at different seasons, the lists to be posted in conspicuous places, whereupon the goods would be ordered by mail and delivered by parcel post. The development of this system would of course be of great advantage to the farmers, and possibly result in a reduction in the market prices of such products as are sold.

The high cost of living, in so far as it relates to food, is probably less a matter of limited supply than of complicated means of marketing. There is plenty of food in the country at all time, but by the time it passes through the hands of three or four middlemen the consumer pays two or three times as much as the producer receives. Witness, for instance, the present state of the fruit industry in the Grand Valley, where apples and peaches are rotting on the ground because there is no profit in picking them.

THE GOVERNMENT SHIPPING BILL.

From the Chicago Tribune.

It appears to have been decided at Washington that the Alexander bill for the acquisition and operation of merchant vessels by the government, at an initial cost of $30,000,000, is not so urgent as to preclude an adjournment of congress some time this month without action thereon. But the president, it is said, still insists that the bill is indispensable to the revival of American shipping and to the building up of a worthy merchant marine. When congress reconvenes after the elections it is his intention to push the bill through as a piece of constructive emergency legislation.

The Tribune can but express its astonishment that the president should still adhere to this view of the bill. One wonders whether he has taken intelligent and practical counsel thereon. There was a short period, immediately after the disruption and disappearance of oceanic shipping, when a sudden assumption by the government of so new and hazardous a function might have seemed unavoidable. But where is the emergency or necessity now? Goods are not rotting on the docks; there are bottoms to carry the foreign trade that is at all in sight; there are no such wonderful opportunities of getting rich quickly in Latin America as was supposed at first blush, while the question of a merchant marine is not one to be settled by happy inspirations or emergency appropriations.

The government can do much to encourage foreign trade by legitimate efforts and it has been doing this and receiving commendation from leading bankers. But government shipping is so radical a departure from our ways and principles that nothing but sheer, unmistakable need would justify it. What do the business bodies of the country think of the Alexander bill? Isn't this a good time for another series of conferences with broad-minded men of affairs at the White House?

THE GERMAN WAR: ITS MEANING.

From Collier's Weekly.

The chorus of admiring comment that has gone up over the completeness of the kaiser's preparations for the present struggle in Europe has signally failed to emphasize the broad meaning of it all. To anyone who stops to think about the technical side of such things in the same way that one thinks about building a railroad, the German mobilization has proved beyond the shadow of a doubt: First, the dominance of the war party in that country; second, their long-framed plans to strike for the mastery of Europe.

It is obvious that all the resources of Germany—men, money, and wealth of every sort—have been prepared and put utterly at the disposal of the military authorities. History shows no other case of a nation so entirely enlisted and mustered for war. The detailed completeness of it is absolute. We read of gigantic stocks of new shoes, new clothes, countless aeroplanes, mobilization posters printed two years ago, elaborate siege guns of novel construction, and so on without end. And all these technical details point to one sole purpose: aggressive war. The autocrats of Berlin summoned their countrymen not to defend Germany but to overrun France through Belgium. It was a scheme of such destructive arrogance that no diplomatic arrangements were possible. The foreign office was unable to keep up with the general staff, and failed either to get Italy into the war or to keep England out. But the struggle had to go forward nevertheless.

To say that it was caused by two or three incident is precisely like saying that the Panama canal was built because the foreman blew the starting whistle. The tragic side of it is that this exhibition of military tyranny is applauded by the German people as a whole. They are willing and eager to take the chance of empire. They believe that a nation which has not yet developed constitutional government is fitted to rule all Europe; that the other races of civilized mankind are to be subjected to the "culture" that has no toleration for the Poles of Posen or the French of Alsace.

LIGHT ON BATTLE PSYCHOLOGY.

From the New York Times.

A question frequently heard nowadays from people who have been reading one of the more detailed accounts of the battles taking place in France or Austria is: "How can human beings endure without going mad the dreadful sights and the almost more dreadful sounds, the constant expectation day and night for weeks of violent death, the agonies of equally prolonged hardships that mark these colossal struggles?"

The inquiry is natural enough, as is the implied unbelief of those who make it that they could not themselves long stand such frightful strains. And not all the soldiers on either side do stand them, for there have been not a few references in the dispatches of men thus driven insane, while a considerable number of letters from those newly at the front have been printed that showed the writers then shaking in the grasp of just such horrors as we at home think we would feel if there. The subsequent experience of the great majority, however, is presumably that recounted by a Russian soldier in one of the Petrograd papers.

He says that the roar of battle no longer troubles him any more than did the incessant city sounds with which he was familiar; that he is so wonted to the spectacle of fields strewn with dead and dying that it now excites in him no strong emotion; that the dangers which fill all his hours have no more effect on him than the petty perils of ordinary life. He can even see not a little to admire in the ebb and flow of battle, and all his standards of what men should and should not do have, for the time being, at least, been changed.

This is not evidence of an acquired callousness, or even of war's brutalizing influence; it is simply an illustration of the fact, known to every psychologist, that to any stimulus continuously or frequently applied human nerves soon cease to react, or react only weakly. Every doctor develops, and to be of any use must develop, a like modification of sympathy as regards the sufferings of his patients, and the nurse who faints at her first operation soon views them with a composure superficially much like indifference. The Russian soldier shrewdly notes, too, that he now views as commonplace deeds that formerly would have stirred him deeply as noble or heroic. He has come to expect such things from everybody, instead of seeing them as exceptional and exciting.

About Trees

BY RUTH CAMERON

"He that plants trees loves others besides himself."

The older I grow the more I like trees.

As a child, like most children, I took trees for granted, as big green things, some conveniently arranged for climbing and some unfortunately not. But as I grew older I began to see them as beautiful creatures of nature's architecture. Architecture, as someone has beautifully said, is frozen music. Trees, then, are the frozen music of nature. And in how many keys and in how many woods, is this wonderful music played!

We were discussing trees the other night and the authoress declared that poplars always made him feel homesick. Thence we drifted to a general discussion of the character of different trees and found them as individual as men and women.

Elms, for instance, are a town, rather than an open country tree. They are the dooryard tree par excellence. They belong in the front yard, towering, stately and faithful sentinels over the home, or lifting their cool green arches above the village street.

Oaks on the contrary are not by nature domesticated trees. They are the trees of the fields and woods. They are rugged and independent. The very adjective by use immemorial has been attached to the oak, is indicative of its independent nature, for we speak of the "sturdy oak" as inevitably as of the "stately elm."

White birches, of course, symbolize youth and virginity. In their slim, straight whiteness, their exquisite pale green leafage, they have all the haunting, happy, sad charm of youth. They are always young, no matter how many years old they may be. We speak of the "grand old oak," the "fine old elm," but never of the "old birch." Birches are gregarious trees. They always grow in happy little groups; one birch would not be half so beautiful. Like Ophelia, with his captured maiden, we find their beauty's best attire "As woven still by the snow white birch."

To talk of the langorous charm of the palm tree is to be too obvious. The palm is as inevitably a symbol of languor, tropic sunshine, and all the charms of a "lazy old land" as the birch is of youth and springtime. Yet in this case, the association is one of location rather than of the tree's individual character. Analyze it. What could be less languorous than the perfectly perpendicular trunk of the palm, as leafless as a telephone pole, as rigid as an old-fashioned New England conscience and as smooth, so hard, so peculiar, that one sometimes looks close to be sure it is not carved of rock or modelled of concrete instead of living wood?

No talk on the individuality of trees would be complete without a word on the most friendly, the most faithful and most generally beloved of trees. You know the finest fruit of the new world, and yet it is not wholly for what you give, but for what you are—gnarled and knotty, but hospitable old apple tree that we love best. You have a place in our hearts with the old dog that helped bring us up. You're not just a tree, you are a personality.

The children of this generation, bred in apartments and tenements lose many things, and not the least is that they will have no dear old apple tree to cherish in their gallery of memories.

DIRECTORS

A director is a man who goes to a meeting to direct the affairs of a stock company during the year which has just closed.

It is very easy to be a director. All one has to do is to own a share of stock, accept a fee for attending each meeting and keep out of the way of the grand jury.

Some directors are so foolish as to insist on meddling with the affairs of the company. But this happens usually only in the crude west. If a director of a great New Jersey corporation composed of water and gall in equal parts were to ask the president what he intended to do with the company he would be fired for impertinence, too quick.

"They are elected by double dummy stockholders."

Directors of this sort are called dummy directors. They are elected by double dummy stockholders and their business is to mind it.

Directors get from $10 to $20 per meeting, according to the enormity of the corporation. They also get a good dinner. After a directorate has been heartened up and made reckless by a dinner, interspersed with high balls, it can approve in 10 minutes' transactions which will later take a government receiver 10 years to untangle.

Some men belong to as many as 40 directorates. After a financier has guessed wrong on the market a few times and has gone out of business with nothing but an ornamental bronze front left, he can pick up a good little income, to say nothing of the gout, by serving on the directorate of his friends' companies.

The beauty of the director system, as used by our greatest captains of skindustry, is that it provides a body of irresponsible men to assume the responsibility. After a great financier has played ping pong with a fine railroad system for a few years and has reduced it to a shattered ore debilitated wreck, it is a great comfort to refer all inquiries to a board of directors, who don't know anything about the case and are perfectly ready to say so.

Some of our most eminent business men have commented very severely upon the United States government and have declared that if it were put in charge of a New York corporation the country could be run for half the present expense. It is affecting to hear a great man, who has just run through two or three railroads, declaring with tears in his eyes that the government ought to quit meddling with business and let business run the government. We would be perfectly willing to see the latter experiment tried if the law would only provide an open season on directors.

DISARMAMENT

"Put up the sword!" The voice of Christ once more
Speaks, in the pauses of the cannon's roar,
O'er fields of corn by fiery sickles reaped
And left dry ashes; over trenches heaped
With nameless dead; o'er cities starving slow
Under a rain of fire; through wards of woe
Down which a groaning diapason runs
From tortured brothers, husbands, lovers, sons
Of desolate women in their far-off homes,
Waiting to hear the step that never comes!
O, men and brothers! let that voice be heard
War fails, try peace; put up the useless sword!

Fear not the end. There is a story told
In Asian tents, when autumn nights grow cold,
And round the fire the Mongol shepherds sit
With grave responses listening unto it:
Once, on the errands of his mercy bent,
Buddha, the holy and benevolent,
Met a fell monster, huge and fierce of look,
Whose awful voice the hills and forests shook.
"O, son of peace!" the giant cried, "thy fate
Is sealed at last, and love shall yield to hate."
The unarmed Buddha looking, with no trace
Of fear or anger, in the monster's face,
In pity said, "Poor friend, even thee I love."
Lo! as he spake the sky-tall terror sank
To hand-breadth size; the huge abhorrence shrank
In form and fashion of a dove;
And where the thunder of its rage was heard,
Circling above him, sweetly sang the bird:
"Hate hath no harm for love," so ran the song,
"And peace unweaponed conquers every wrong."

—John Greenleaf Whittier.

COST OF THE CLIMATE CURE

Of all the factors which make for improvement in tuberculosis climate is the least important, and, unless supported by the essentials—fresh air, good food, proper care—the most perfect climate must prove valueless.

Unless the individual is prepared to provide himself at the resort with the proper requisites he had much better stay at home than undertake a trip which not only exhausts his resources but does him no good.

These opinions are taken from an article by Dr. Frazer of Asheville, N. C., published in the public health report for September 18, 1914. Dr. Frazer knows that Asheville is a good place for consumptives. He has seen a great many recover under the influence of its helpful climate.

At the same time he knows that climate is only helpful. Rest, full feeding, and out of doors life are the essentials of cure which climate helps when given a fair chance. But Dr. Frazer has seen a great many consumptives who had such faith in climate that they did not give climate a fair chance.

Climate does not have a fair chance if the consumptive spends his time indoors, or worries, or is homesick, or does not stay long enough, or is without funds.

Most consumptives to give climate a chance must refrain from work, which means that they must have money enough to live on without work. In Asheville about the minimum amount of money required is $20 a month. This is made up of board and room, $5; laundry, $3; medical service, $20; and the rest incidentals. This sum is a minimum. To have many comforts this sum should be exceeded.

It is important that the patient should remain long enough. Those of us who have had to do with patients who have returned from climate cures know that a too early return is the rule. For a patient to remain in a climate long enough is the exception. Dr. Frazer arbitrarily fixes the length of stay required as ten months.

This would mean that a consumptive going to a climate cure should have at least $700 in sight. This will seem excessive to some, but I am sure physicians agree that Dr. Frazer's estimate is conservative. A consumptive going little by starting out for a climatic cure with less than $1,000. For many that sum would be much too small.

TO FIGHT TYPHOID

F. W. D. writes: "What precautions should be taken to prevent typhoid fever?"

REPLY

The person who wishes to escape should

1. Boil the water.
2. Boil the milk.
3. Eat at no place except where he knows everything to be sanitary.
4. Avoid fly-infested places.
5. Keep out of houses where there is typhoid and the attendants are careless.

If conditions are unusually threatening, he should be vaccinated against typhoid.

The local government should study the situation, discover the source of infection, and cure it. If the water supply is polluted, chlorinating should be begun at once and a more permanent remedy should be planned for. If the milk supply is polluted, pasteurization and sanitary inspection should be inaugurated. If the infection is in a material degree due to neglected cases, municipal nurses should be employed. If the infection is due to privies and flies the proper remedies must be applied.

In addition, the health department must provide a stock of typhoid vaccine and offer it to the people gratuitously or compel universal vaccination, according to the imminence of the danger.

NO TUBERCULOSIS DANGER

H. H. S. writes: "I am thinking of moving into a house where there was a case of tuberculosis four years ago. After the person's death the house was well fumigated. Do you think there will be any danger for a person who inherits tuberculosis to live in this house? How long does a tuberculosis germ live? Would you advise me to have a sleeping porch? Please give me some advice on the training and diet of a child who is of an excitable disposition. The child is three years old."

REPLY.

1. No.
2. In the sunlight, for a few minutes; in a dark, damp place, for a long time—months perhaps.
3. Yes. I would advise every person who is well and wants to stay well to have a sleeping porch. Those with tuberculosis in the family should go to some inconvenience to get a sleeping porch.
4. To answer your question properly would require more space than we can give it. Send to the national committee for mental hygiene, 50 Union Square, New York City, for publication No. 2, by Barker. It is a 14 page treatise. If you wish to learn more, get one or more of the books referred to in this circular.

REPLY TO R. D. M.

No. I do not think you have heart disease, or that you need a tonic. What you need is to change your habits. Overcome your constipation. Try bran in abundance, or agar, or paraffin oil. Change your eating habits. Drink plenty of water. You must exercise in the open air. Sleep in a well ventilated room.

REPLY TO MRS. J. E. M.

You need local treatment, both for your own welfare and that of your child. Be certain that your baby's eyes are washed with boracic acid solution and treated with silver solution immediately after birth.

TRAINED FOR LOSS OF ARM

I met a German officer who had been wounded in his right arm. He was writing rapidly with his left hand.

"You are so fortunate as to be ambidexterous," I said.

"We are a family of officers," he replied. "When I was a boy I thought that what has happened might happen. Hence I trained myself to write with the left hand as well as the right. Today I find it convenient." He smiled contentedly.

BUSINESS DOESN'T COME THAT WAY

"The saloon advocates say, 'Prohibit the saloon and there will be more drinking than ever.'

"Go to any business house in town and say: 'Close your doors and take down your signs. The people will hunt you up and give you more patronage than ever before.'

"Doesn't it sound silly?

"The majority of men and boys drink because of the accessibility of the saloon, because of its bright signs and its bright windows, because of its buoyant temptation. Remove these features and you remove their inclination to drink.

"The average self-respecting young man will shudder with disgust at the mere thought of hunting up a stinking bootlegg

ATHLETICS AND BRAVES IN PRACTICE; ALL SEATS ARE SOLD, AND THOUSANDS UNABLE TO GET TICKETS TO BIG EVENT

Stallings Encouraged Over Deal's Work at Third; Ticket Speculators Get Busy With Sales; Philadelphia Is Baseball Mad; Both Managers Confident of Winning

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—In preparation for the opening game of the series for the baseball championship of the world, the Boston Braves and the Philadelphia Athletics today practiced in ball parks that were only five city blocks apart. Thousands of persons in the downtown district provided excitement in their scrambling and defiance of the police while making wild efforts to buy tickets for the big sporting event. Tonight there is not a reserved seat ticket to be had for any of the games scheduled to be played on the American league grounds here except through speculators.

The so-called tuning up process today of the present world's champions and the winners of the National league pennant was of a mild character. Neither Connie Mack nor George Stallings permitted their men to do any extended work. The National leaguers spent more than two hours in the forenoon on the grounds of the Philadelphia National league club, taking an easy workout. The weather was damp, rain falling in light showers during a part of the morning, in consequence of which the Boston manager refused to let his men extend themselves. Tyler was the only member of the pitching staff to warm up.

The team practiced behind closed gates and the few supporters of the club who saw the men go through their practice bestowed their attention upon Third Baseman Deal, who will go into the series in place of Smith, who is lying in a Brooklyn hospital with a broken ankle. Deal was given a good workout in fielding hard hit grounders and also had to face some stiff pitching. Stallings, who was reported to have been greatly depressed over Smith's misfortune, began to cheer up today. After the practice he said he felt confident that Deal would do his best to measure up to Smith's ability at the bat.

BRAVES WATCH ATHLETICS BUT DON'T SEE MUCH

A majority of the Boston players took in the final American league game at Shibe park in the afternoon when the Athletics trounced New York 10 to 0. They did not learn much about their opponents' style of play. The New York pitching was easy and the Philadelphia team laced the ball to all parts of the field. The Athletics took no chances on the bases and played straight baseball all through the game.

While at Shibe park George Stallings met Connie Mack. There were mutual congratulations over the winning of their respective pennants and each expressed the hope that the series would be a good one. While at the park Stallings arranged with Mack for the Braves to practice at Shibe park tomorrow morning after the Athletics have their usual workout. There will be no secrecy in the Boston practice. The players will remain only long enough to become familiar with the grounds and the shadows cast by the high stands.

ROOTERS WORRIED ABOUT M'INNIS AT FIRST BASE

Some of the rooters of the world's champions are becoming anxious over McInnis, the first baseman. About 10 days ago he was struck on his throwing hand by a pitched ball in St. Louis and has not played in a game since, although he has appeared in practice. The club management has not said much about his injury, but there is no doubt he will get into the first game on Friday. Outfielder Walsh, who broke into baseball as a first baseman on the Niagara university team, has been playing in McInnis' place in fine style and hitting the ball hard.

Demand for tickets for the series was never greater than it is this year. The applications for reserved seats at Shibe park were four times greater than the capacity of the grandstand. A certain number of tickets were held for privileged persons and the remainder were placed on sale at the ticket office of a department store. The line of purchasers at this office began to form early Monday morning and it was more than six blocks long when the sale began. The line broke when the ticket office opened and the police had much difficulty in quieting the disorder in the crowded shopping district. Mounted policemen had to be used to scatter the crowd.

SPECULATORS START TO SELL TICKETS; ADVANCE PRICE

Hardly had the ticket office opened than speculators began to sell seats for the games three and five dollars above the regular prices. Five and three dollar tickets were quickly sold out and all the two dollar seats were disposed of early in the afternoon. When the ticket office windows closed there was still a long line on the street.

Enterprising householders whose homes border two sides of Shibe park are erecting stands on the roofs of their houses. These will seat about 4,000 persons and tickets are being sold at from 50 cents to two dollars each.

MACKS SHOW WONDERFUL FORM; BEAT YANKS 10 TO 0

Players Hit Hard, but Take No Chances on Bases; Fielding Is Perfect

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—In their final game of the championship season the Philadelphia team this afternoon exhibited the best form of their tuning up exhibition for the world's series and defeated New York by 10 to 0. Mack's players hammered Pieh's delivery hard, especially in the first two innings when they bunched six hits with three passes and three stolen bases and scored seven times. Walsh drove in four runs in the first two sessions with a four-bagger and a single. Oldring, Barry and Strunk also hit the ball hard. Four pitchers were used by the home team. Bressler was touched up for three singles and gave a pass in the first three innings. Bush, Shawkey and Pennock each twirled two innings. They blanked their opponents in every inning. One hit was made off Shawkey but this was followed by a double play. Manager Stallings and nearly all of the Boston Braves witnessed the contest.

Boston Has Six Outfielders for Three Positions in World Contest

The Boston Braves, who will play the Philadelphia Americans for the world baseball championship, the first game opening Friday at Philadelphia, are well supplied with outfielders. Manager Stallings has six young men to fill the three positions.

His regulars, at least the men who have played in the most games, for it is difficult to tell what Stallings considers a regular, are Connolly, left field; Whitted, center, and Moran, right. Mann, Devore and Cathers will get a chance to play if any of these men show signs of inability to hit the Athletics' pitchers.

Call Gazette for News on World's Series Battles

Beginning tomorrow, the world's series will be the principal attraction of interest to sport fans and even war news will pale beside the news of how the Boston Braves and the Philadelphia Athletics are getting along in their struggle for the supremacy of the baseball world.

As usual, The Gazette will give the fans the first news of this series, the Associated Press leased wire running into our office and carrying every play in the games. The games will start at 2 o'clock, eastern time, and this means 12 o'clock mountain time. The news will start coming in about 12:10. Call Main 214 or Main 215.

INDIANAPOLIS WINS FEDERAL LEAGUE TITLE AFTER THRILLING RACE WITH TINKER'S NINE

Carr and Falkenberg Principal Factors in Victory; Gilmore Challenges Winner of World's Series for Set of Games

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 7.—By winning from St. Louis today, the Indianapolis Federal league team for the second time in two years, captured the Federal league pennant.

To Manager "Whoa Bill" Phillips, the "silent leader" of the team, who also was at the helm of the club last year when it won the first flag of the league, is given credit, in a large measure, for the winning of the second championship. He, however, ascribes the victory to his players. The feature of the local team's work this season was its strong attack.

The race between the Chicago and Indianapolis team has been close almost from the start of the season, with first one club and then another in the lead. Yesterday's victory for Indianapolis, while Chicago was losing two games, gave the local team, which was a half game behind, a one-game lead.

President Gilmore of the Federals has announced that he will challenge the winner of the world's series on behalf of the winner of the Federal league pennant, but there is little hope that a series can be arranged.

The Federal league race was one of the hardest fought of modern baseball history, nearly every team at one time or another taking part in a rally that gave it an apparent chance for the flag. At the start St. Louis jumped to the front and at the end of the first two weeks led the league. The first clash with eastern clubs proved disastrous for the Mound City crowd, and after a campaign of two weeks around the western circuit B[illegible] front and retained [illegible]

The local pitcher allowed three hits, two of them in the ninth inning, struck out eight batsmen and gave one base on balls. He was given perfect support. Fielder Jones, St. Louis manager, batted in the ninth. He fled out. After the game the fans cheered in the [illegible] and [illegible] congratulated the Indianapolis players and manager.

A FIGHT FOR MILLIONS

A Fight for Millions or The Adventures of a Gentleman Burglar, with Barney Gilmore and an all star American cast is the stellar attraction at the Empress today. As a startling dramatic production it has no superior; the many tense situations and thrilling denouements are exciting in the extreme, the acting and photography throughout is superb; a feature well worth while through its entire length of four thousand feet.

The story:—

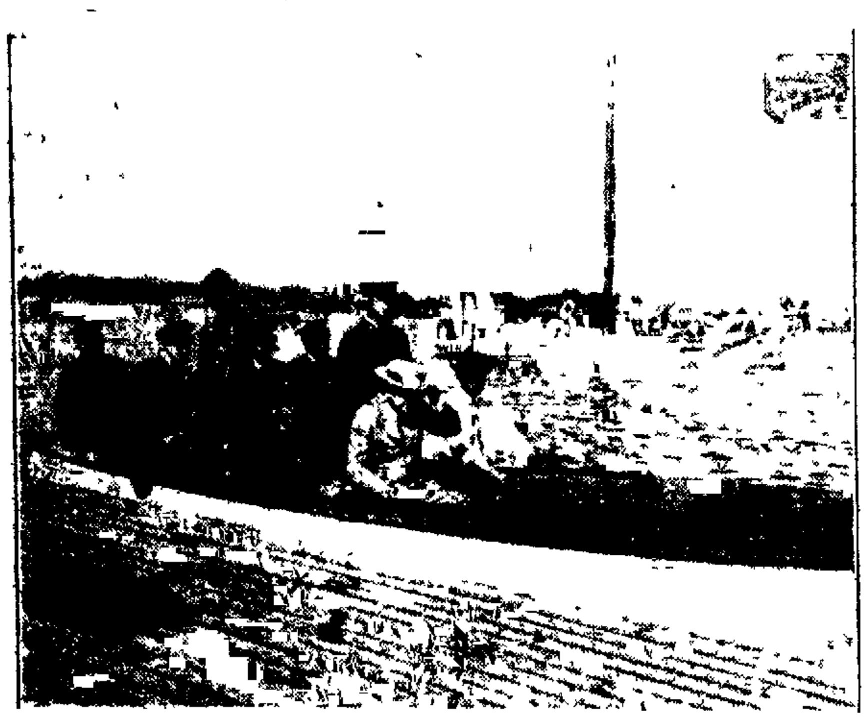

Calculating ingenious [illegible] gentleman Raffles through his acquaintance and friendship with a millionaire banker's daughter, cunningly gets her family affairs and cleverly gets his information [illegible] and his [illegible] have a remarkable organization as well as an up-to-date equipment. He kept preaching to her the need of improving her mind as well as learning the technique of the drama.

Miss Marsh has done both. She is what fairly may be called an omnivorous reader of the time tried classics. She and Thackeray have more than a speaking acquaintance. And as a screen celebrity Mae Marsh certainly has arrived. To accomplish these things when practically all her life still is before her speaks such volumes in her praise as no mere biography could sketch.

FRENCH AND GERMAN AVIATORS ENGAGE IN DUEL IN THE CLOUDS

BORDEAUX, Oct. 7.—Official dispatches received by the French war department today gave a graphic account of an aerial duel which was watched by thousands of soldiers of the French and German armies October 5 at Jonchery, in the region of Rheims.

A German aeroplane ascended with two men and after circling over the French positions, was returning to its own lines when Sergeant Frantz, one of the most expert of French aviators, accompanied by his mechanician, Quinault, sprang to a machine and gave chase.

By a skillful maneuver the French aeroplane took the German on the flank and wounded the pilot and put a bullet through the gasoline tank.

A shot of flame enveloped the German air craft and the machine dropped rapidly, landing close to the French lines. In the descent the unwounded man continued to fire his pistol until prevented by the flames.

WOMEN WHO ARE ALWAYS TIRED

May Find Help in This Letter.

Swan Creek, Mich.—"I cannot speak too highly of your medicine. When through neglect or overwork I get run down and my appetite is poor and I have that weak, languid, always tired feeling, I get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it builds me up, gives me strength, and restores me to perfect health again. It is truly a great blessing to women, and I cannot speak too highly of it. I take pleasure in recommending it to others."—Mrs. ANNIE CAMERON, R.F.D., No. 1, Swan Creek, Michigan.

Another Sufferer Relieved.

Hebron, Me.—"Before taking your remedies I was all run down, discouraged and had female weakness. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sanative Wash, and find today that I am an entirely new woman, ready and willing to do my housework now, where before taking your medicine it was a dread. I try to impress upon the minds of all ailing women I meet the benefits they can derive from your medicines."—Mrs. CHARLES ROWE, R. F. D., No 1, Hebron, Maine.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

MRS. RIDDLE IS A THINKER

Woman Member of Colorado Legislature a Forceful Speaker

From the Kansas City Star.

HUTCHINSON, Kan.—The people of eastern Kansas heard Mrs. Agnes Riddle of Colorado in large numbers when she spoke in that part of the state last week. It is not a usual privilege to hear a woman like Mrs. Riddle.

Mrs. Riddle is not what would be called a "platform orator." She would not stand the ghost of a show for the prize in an oratorical contest. She simply is a farm wife who became interested in helping solve the problems of women who live on farms and by a mere chance was sent to the Colorado legislature. There she saw the brazen bipartisan machine of the Democrats and Republicans—the "Beast in the Jungle"—at work.

Saw Workings of Machine.

A woman of more than ordinary intellect, she saw in the machine methods of the two old parties the real enemy of society.

From her own experience as a working woman, her sympathy for working men and women developed into an ambition to help them.

The chief charm of her speeches lies in her zeal. The audience laughs—but not at Mrs. Riddle or her message. Her quaint way of saying things brings a smile; the thing she says often brings the tears.

"I didn't like to ask my husband's consent to run for the legislature," she said, "for fear he would refuse, so I thought I would put it off until after I had secured the nomination. Then it would be too late to object. After I was nominated I didn't want to tell him face to face, so I called him up over the telephone and broke the news to him so he would be more reconciled before I got home."

Her Work in Legislature.

"It was a work of energy and anxiety," Mrs. Riddle said in relating the success of a social welfare measure in the house. "It was a day of nerve [illegible] anxiety to get this measure that had been promised the people in the two old party platforms and the [illegible] labor was only half completed. We had to follow the bill to the senate and put our arms around the necks of those statesmen to get them to fulfill their pledges.

"What does that Dutch farm wife want to go to the legislature for?" the politicians asked. "What will she do in the legislature?"

"Everything," Mrs. Riddle replied, "that a legislator is supposed to do except to put my feet on the desk and smoke a cigar. Why shouldn't a woman go there?"

These are some of the pleasant things she says, a bit every pleasantry is loaded with a point that drives home a bit of wisdom worth while.

"Sure," she said, "I had to go out [illegible] the hardest [illegible] to put I wanted [illegible] so that I swallowed my pride and asked, 'Say, boss, can I go to the legislature?' They gave me the nomination because the district was [illegible] overwhelmingly [illegible] they didn't think I could [illegible] to the legislature determined that I might do what I should direct my conscience that I was there.

Governor Feared Result.

When we passed the minimum hour [illegible] women [illegible] governor of the state said 'Why, ladies, you will ruin the industries of our state and spoil our chances to get more factories.'

"Well, what have the brave men of Colorado been doing? Have the great industries of this state been built up by women workers, does the prosperity of Colorado depend upon the toil and sweat of poor women? Must we sacrifice the lives of mothers and daughters to keep the wheels moving two more hours a day? I believe I will vote to let the wheels stand idle, even at the expense of ruining our 'industrial institutions,'" Mrs. Riddle replied.

Cough Medicine for Children.

Never give a child a cough medicine that contains opium in any form. When opium is given other and more serious diseases may follow. Long experience has demonstrated that there is no better or safer medicine for coughs, colds and croup in children than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is equally valuable for adults. Try it. It contains no opium or other harmful drugs. For sale by all dealers. Adv.

QUARTERS PROVIDED FOR CAVALRY HORSES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Officers commanding federal troops in the Colorado mining district have been directed to provide winter quarters for the cavalry horses. Secretary Garrison said today, however, that while the approach of cold weather made this step necessary, no decision had been reached as to the length of time the troops would be kept in Colorado.

HON. GEOFFREY PEARSON IS KILLED IN BATTLE

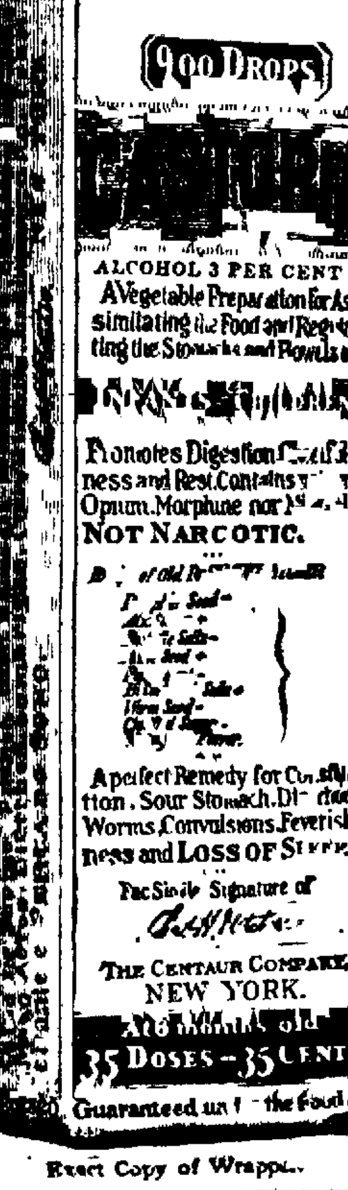

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The Express today confirmed the reports that Hon. Geoffrey Pearson, third son of Lord Cowdray, the well-known British contractor and financier, has been killed in battle. He was acting as a motorcycle dispatch bearer with the army service corps and with another motorcyclist was captured by Uhlans who were attacked by the allies. Pearson and his companion made a dash for liberty and were fired on by the Germans. Pearson was hit and died instantly.

It is said that the first sawmill in the United States was at Jamestown, from which sawed boards were exported in June, 1607. A water power sawmill was in use in 1625 near the present site of Richmond.

HIGHLANDER'S GRAVE MARKED BY HIS BULLET TORN-COAT

MAKE LENDER FRIEND OF BORROWER, URGES DR. JOHN L. COULTER

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Reorganization of the farm mortgage business so that the lender will be friend and financial adviser and guardian if need be of the borrower was advocated here today by Dr. John Lee Coulter, secretary of the United States commission on rural credits. Dr. Coulter spoke before the first annual convention of the Farm Mortgage Bankers association. It is essential, he declared, that better financial principles be applied to farm mortgages. Two leading principles, he said, must guide such loans. First the amount and period of the loan must be adjusted to the purpose for which the loan is required. Second, provision must be made for the extinction of the loan in annual installments. "Of the 6,360,000 farms in the United States, about 4,000,000 are operated by their owners and of these 1,327,000 are mortgaged," Dr. Coulter said. "Under the general practice, these mortgages are made to run from three to five years. I urge that the length of the loan should vary with the purpose.

"If the loan is made to equip the farm with machinery or live stock, it could run from five to 10 years. If the purpose is to construct buildings, the loan might extend over a period of 15 years. If the purpose is to purchase the farm, the loan might extend from 25 as far as 35 years.

"As to my proposal that farm loans should be paid off in annual installments, the farmer's revenue is produced in this way and unless the farmer gradually reduces the loan he is almost sure at its maturity to ask for its renewal. Thus far more indebtedness piles up."

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is mussy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, and abundant. [illegible]

RUSSIA TRYING TO HAVE DARDANELLES REOPENED

PETROGRAD, Russia, Oct. 7.—The president of the Russian Industrial Merchants association, M. Avdakoff, has approached Foreign Minister Sazonoff on the subject of the closing of the Dardanelles. In the course of the conversation, the foreign minister said that the powers of the triple entente, Russia, Great Britain and France, were continuing their efforts to have the Dardanelles reopened to commerce. He laid particular emphasis on the necessity which confronted Russian commerce of divorcing itself from German influences.

The Russky Slovo publishes a dispatch from a correspondent giving brief details of the battle on the Niemen river. He says the Germans suffered enormous losses, the Russian artillery making heavy inroads on their ranks. Thousands of bodies of German soldiers lie on the left bank of the river, the correspondent declares.

DENVER BANKER DIRECTOR KANSAS CITY RESERVE BANK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Government or class C directors of the federal reserve banks of Chicago and Kansas City were named today by the federal reserve board. The choice only the Cleveland directors to be announced before all 12 banks are ready to begin the actual work of organization.

The Chicago directors named are: Federal reserve agent and chairman of the board, C. H. Bosworth of Chicago; deputy agent and vice chairman, W. L. McKee [illegible], Columbia City, Ind.; director, E. [illegible] T. Meredith, Des Moines, Ia.

Kansas City: Reserve agent and board chairman, J. Z. Miller, Kansas City; [illegible] deputy and vice chairman, [illegible] Denver, [illegible] director, [illegible]

JERRY JOHNSON ORE HOUSE IS DESTROYED

CRIPPLE CREEK, Oct. 7.—The ore house of the Jerry Johnson mine on Ironclad hill and its contents were totally destroyed by fire at 3 o'clock this morning. The loss is estimated at $3,000 and was fully covered by insurance. The property is under lease to Frimsen [illegible] Faith on. The fire was caused by a defective flue from a heating stove.

Quarry Fatalities Lower in 1913 Than in Preceding Year

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Fatalities in and about quarries in the United States were fewer in 1913 than in 1912 but were higher than in Great Britain and France for the corresponding years.

Figures issued by the federal bureau of mines today show that 182 men were killed in 1913 compared with 213 in 1912, a decrease of 14 per cent. The number of men employed was 106,278 and the death rate per 1,000 was 1.72 compared with 1.88 during 1912. In France the death rate in 1912 was less than one in every 1,000 men employed. In Great Britain for the 10 years, 1895 to 1905, the rate was 1.09 for every 1,000 men.

"The higher death rate in the American quarries," declares Albert H. Fay, engineer of the bureau of mines, "probably results from less stringent regulations and less systematic inspection."

Carson City, Nevada, has organized a Booster club to improve the highways of the vicinity.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS IF BACK HURTS OR BLADDER BOTHERS

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. Adv.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—For the first time since war started in Europe a direct shipment of cotton from this country to France was made yesterday. It is supposed most of the cotton which has been reaching France has gone through Great Britain but yesterday's consignment was to Havre.

The total export of cotton yesterday was 29,812 bales. This included 5,305 bales to France; 5,478 to Great Britain, and 1,435 to other points on the continent. More than 12,000 bales went to Japan and approximately 1,250 to Mexico.

This represents a gain compared with recent weeks. Exports for the season to date have totaled [illegible] bales. Last year in the same period, 1,323,854 bales were exported.

CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Wheat prices receded from an advance today after discovering that efforts to buy large amounts of flour ostensibly for the French and Belgian governments had been without authority. The market closed unsettled at the same as last night to ⅛c up. Corn gained ¼@⅜c to ⅜@½c net and oats ⅛@¼ to ⅜c. In provisions the outcome varied from 10c decline to a rise of 2½c.

Bullish figures in the government crop report regarding wheat came too late to affect today's market, the early strength in which was due mainly to higher quotations at Liverpool, to a decrease in the European visible supply and to unfavorable advices about seeding in France, Belgium and elsewhere. Reactions set in, however, when the fact began to be apparent that export business was not developing unusual volume even when offers were made at a decided concession price.

What made the backward swing of values conclusive as to wheat was the announcement that big tentative sales of flour from American and Canadian mills to a supposed representative of the French and Belgian armies were being canceled. The aggregate of the discredited sales was said to be fully 500,000 sacks.

Corn made only a temporary dip in response to the setback shown in wheat. Wet weather threatening to delay receipts was partly responsible for the strength of the market and so also was a tendency to even up trades in anticipation of the government crop report. The Washington estimate, which arrived just after the close, proved, however, to be more bearish than had been expected.

Oats reflected in a moderate way the renewal of a liberal demand from the seaboard. It was said that one purchase from France amounted to 400,000 bushels.

Large receipts of hogs at western centers weakened the provision markets. Buying on the part of packers, though, had a steadying effect after the decline.

FINANCIAL SITUATION

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Dealings in the various securities that are being traded in under the direction of a committee which includes representatives of the stock exchange are said to have increased materially so far this week. There has been considerable demand for some of the unlisted bonds and the shares of several industrial companies whose business, far from suffering by the European crisis, is said to have profited substantially. In the curb division the inquiry has been mainly for Standard Oil subsidiaries.

There was further activity today in foreign exchange at fractionally higher rates as the result of increased demand from commercial interests, which have heavy commitments expiring in London within the next fortnight. The gold pool bought exchange in larger amounts than at any time since its organization and a further moderate shipment of gold to Ottawa was made.

In the local money market the most significant development was the freer acceptance of mercantile paper by banks in New England and the middle west. This was reported as an indication of impending betterment in commercial lines and was confirmed in part by advices from several trade centers to the effect that merchandise purchasers were proceeding with more liberality.

The government crop report shows some important changes from the preceding month, with the exception of corn, in which a better condition was disclosed, together with a large indicated yield. Winter wheat estimates were slightly under September figures and spring wheat also fell back slightly.

Weekly reviews of the steel industry were of the same dubious character as those recently advanced and were attended by reports of further curtailment and deferred dividends. Because of this state of trade more than ordinary interest attaches to the report of unfilled tonnage to be issued by the United States Steel corporation at the end of the week.

Private cables from London intimated that resumption of regular business by the stock exchange is a matter for future consideration with the outcome resting in the hands of the government. The British trade report for September shows steady decreases both in imports and exports, but for the nine months of the calendar year imports are larger by almost $24,500,000.

FIVE MEN WOUNDED IN CHICAGO STREET BATTLE

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Five men were wounded in a street fight at Clark and Randolph streets here today. The wounded:

Barney Bertsche, politician, recently convicted of operating a confidence game in connection with a clairvoyant ring alleged to have taken tens of thousands of dollars from dupes; out on bail.

William Egan, detective sergeant.

James Monaghan, detective sergeant.

Nathan Spira, recently convicted of arson; at liberty pending decision of appeal.

Ted Owens, friend of Bertsche's.

The detectives had just taken Bertsche into custody when it is said he broke loose and dashing into the middle of the street, opened fire on the officers. The detectives replied and about 20 shots were fired.

GERMANS STILL ARE BOMBARDING RHEIMS

LONDON, Oct. 7.—A dispatch received by the Times from Epernay, France, under date of October 3, states that the northeastern suburbs of Rheims are still under German shell fire which is doing considerable damage. The shells apparently are intended for the French batteries in position just outside the town.

"The panic among the inhabitants," the dispatch says, "has been increased through the action of German aeroplanes which are dropping bombs containing a high explosive in an attempt to destroy the railway station. So far this place has not been damaged but refugees report that 14 persons were killed by one of the bombs."
